FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several weeks," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day. N. C. 123

Our Ice Cream Freezers are easy to turn. We have two, three, four, six and eight quart sizes. Come in and let us show them to you.

AS A WOMAN SEES IT Rheta Childs Dorr

Bouck White and his fellow "revolutionists" who burned, with what they meant for impressive ceremonies, the American flag, together with the flags of Germany, Great Britain, Russia, Sweden, Japan, Italy and Greece, defended their action on the ground of its motive. The flags were burned, they declared, as a symbol that the participants in the affair renounced nationalism and proclaimed their allegiance to internationalism.

What is there in the action of these flag burners that is so repugnant to the ordinary citizen? The justice who sentenced White to fine and imprisonment for a previous offense, much less serious, said that the man ought to be tarred and feathered and sent to live in a country by himself. The latter half of that opinion will probably be shared by most right thinking people.

White himself, and probably most of his followers are simply social failures. They do not fit. Some of them may know that, but most of them, including their leader, think that it is the other way around. The rest of the world does not fit.

Still they and their performances are dangerous because of the cast number of young immigrant boys who read about them, and are in danger of imbibing the poison of their shallow philosophy. The word internationalism looks big and splendid to youth. A man who is willing to go to prison for it might well appear a hero to an immature spectator.

The fact is that a man who could deliberately burn the flag of his country is entirely incapable of feeling internationally. No man who is devoid of national spirit can possibly comprehend the larger spirit. Nationalism is merely community spirit on a large scale. It is family spirit, school spirit, neighborhood spirit magnified a million times. A person who knows not one knows not the other.

That thing in a community which enables large groups to do team work, to get together and plan unselfishly for the common good, enables a whole people to unite, to stand together for the protection of all. It enabled France to spring to arms overnight when the first war bolt fell. It is that which keeps little Finland together and makes its passive resistance prevail against Russian oppression.

The group spirit, small or large, is the essence of loyalty to the group. The anger and shame we feel when some fool desecrates the flag is based on a conviction that such a person is incapable of loyalty to any group. He would betray any trust.

Some day, in a far future of realized ideals, we may evolve a loyalty to all human kind as fervent and as real as the loyalty we now feel for home and country. But when that time comes no one will repudiate any of the lesser loyalties. We shall be socialized clear through.

People are learning that a little forethought often saves them a big expense. Here is an instance: E. W. Archer, Caldwell, Ohio, writes: "I do not believe that our family has been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since we commenced keeping house years ago. When we go on an extended visit we take it with us." Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

Notice To City Tax Payers
